ADAM BUTZ-WEIDNER

Boston, MA | adamwbutz@gmail.com | adambw.xyz | linkedin.com/in/adamwbutz

Producer | Podcasts, Narrative Audio and Youth Media

Producer with 9+ years of audio and video work. Grew into producing Jacob's Pillow's weekly dance podcast after starting as its recording engineer. Ran a high school new media program whose student work was recognized by the Pulitzer Center, PBS NewsHour and WHYY.

EXPERIENCE

Audio Producer & Composer, Freelance 2017–Present

Narrative audio, podcasts, film sound and music for arts organizations and artists.

- PillowVoices: Dance Through Time (Jacob's Pillow's weekly dance podcast, 2020–2023) — Researched episodes, shaped their structure with hosts and guests, edited, mixed, and composed original music. Restored badly distorted archival festival recordings by hand, before one-click AI restoration existed.
- Fledged (short film, 2025) — Dolby Atmos mix, ADR, Foley and sound design. Official Selection, Sherman Oaks Film Festival.
- The Tragedy of Tom Bennet (feature-length audio drama, 2020) — Produced and directed it with a cast of professional and first-time actors. Designed the sound, wrote the score, mixed it, and acted in it.
- Inside the Dancer's Studio (National Center for Choreography podcast, 2021–2022) — Recorded and mixed the weekly interview show and delivered mastered episodes on deadline.
- Slow Crawl Towards The Sun (Lena Fine album, 2024) — Producer.
- Music (2017–present) — Produced and mixed for the band Courier Club (2020–2024), produced singles for Dangerboy and music with Kuni, and worked in the studio with Hop Along. Music I've worked on has reached millions of streams.

Entrepreneurship & New Media Educator, Springside Chestnut Hill Academy 2022–2026

Ran the new media program in the school's Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership, in Philadelphia.

- Taught video production to students who started with no filmmaking experience. A short film made by the class won the WHYY Youth Film Festival.
- Mentored a tenth-grade capstone studio for eight semesters. The studio won the program's top award four times.
- Coached a student documentary on SEPTA's budget crisis, built on hundreds of interviews, including former Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter.
- Developed and produced a student-hosted podcast, coaching the hosts' interviews and editing each episode.
- Set up partnerships with PBS NewsHour and the Pulitzer Center with a fellow teacher.

Community Manager, REC Philly 2019–2020

Shared artist workspace in Philadelphia with recording, podcast and photo studios.

- First point of contact for members, artists and outside partners as the space opened its new Fashion District home.
- Helped set up the main studios, including the SSL console and room calibration, and set the practices for renting equipment and studio space.

Studio Assistant, Stevens Institute of Technology 2016–2017

- Set up recording and mix-down sessions for stereo and ambisonic work.

SKILLS

Producing: Story development, episode research, structure and pacing, interview editing, booking and guest coordination, archival research, directing talent

Audio & video: Dialogue editing, restoration, sound design, scoring, mixing and mastering, Dolby Atmos, ADR and Foley, video editing

Teaching: Curriculum design, mentoring, video production and music production courses

Tools: Pro Tools, iZotope RX, Adobe Audition, Descript, Riverside, Logic Pro, Ableton, Premiere Pro, DaVinci Resolve, Photoshop, Illustrator

EDUCATION

University of the Arts

B.S., Music, Business, Entrepreneurship, and Technology